

‘Inspired to Follow: Art and the Bible Story’

Conditions of Use

‘Inspired to Follow: Art and the Bible Story’ has been created by St Martin-in-the-Fields in partnership with the National Gallery. It’s offered to the wider church as a free resource for use in enabling people to explore the Christian faith.

In downloading the resources that make up ‘Inspired to Follow: Art and the Bible Story’, you have committed yourself to the following conditions of use:

- That you understand that the images for ‘Inspired to Follow: Art and the Bible Story’ are provided courtesy of the National Gallery and the Royal Collection for not-for-profit, educational use. And that you agree not to alter them or reproduce them in any way, or use them for any other purpose.
- That you also understand that the course design (which includes all associated materials) and the theological reflections for ‘Inspired to Follow: Art and the Bible Story’ are provided by St Martin-in-the-Fields for not-for-profit, educational use, and that you agree not to reproduce them in any publication, printed or electronic, without permission in writing from St Martin-in-the-Fields.

If you want to enquire about permission to reproduce any of the written materials, please email St Martin-in-the-Fields at clergyoffice@smitf.org.

If you want to reproduce any of the National Gallery images, please follow the process and guidance relating to the particular image on the National Gallery’s website www.nationalgallery.org.uk. Depending on the type of use and the quality of the image, there may be a fee to be paid.